

“WEST VIRGINIA GROWN” LOGO PROGRAM

The West Virginia Grown Logo program was developed and started by the West Virginia Department of Agriculture as a means of identifying products of the highest quality in 1986. The logo is most frequently used on both fresh and processed foods, but is also used on other items such as plants and Christmas trees.

The requirement for this program are that the products must be totally produced, grown, or manufactured in West Virginia or must have a 50% or greater value added in the state of West Virginia. “Criteria for Food Products” have additional requirements that may apply.

In order to utilize the logo, participants in the program must fill out and sign an “Authorization Agreement” form which is kept on file in the Communications and Marketing Division of the Department of Agriculture. You can incorporate the logo in the design of your label by filling out an “Authorization Agreement for Imprinting or Reproduction of Logo” form. In some instances, “Modifications of Logo” are permitted.

The logos are sold to participants at a cost and are ordered directly from the Department of Agriculture by fill out an “Order Form”. “Examples of Sizes Available” include: ½” circles, 1 ¼” circles, 4” x 4 ½” rectangles, 5” x 7” index cards and 3” x 5” card stock hang tags.

The program is quite popular with both producers and customers alike. Many producers have conducted test markets and have found time and time again that customers will purchase products using the logo before they will purchase the same product without a logo on the package.

Participants in the program must meet “Uniform Packaging & Labeling Requirements” and have their labels approved by the Department of Agriculture. These can be mailed, faxed, or emailed to our office for approval.
