

Donna Teter-Bee

Diversified Farm Operator

Teter Farms

Randolph County

“Any job worth doing is worth doing right,” was always a favorite quote of Donna Teter. After the untimely death of her husband, she took over a farm operation that now has 325 brood cows, 200 commercial and purebred ewes, commercial goats and a new corn maze and pumpkin patch.

However, her greatest contribution may be her commitment to conservation practices in some of West Virginia's most remote grazing areas. Donna, herself, passed away January 9, 2012.
