

Jean Woloshuk

4-H Youth Agriculture

Extension Specialist

West Virginia University Extension

I have had the opportunity to work with youth developing life skills through 4-H agricultural project work. My professional life has afforded many opportunities to engage both youth and adults in educational programs designed to increase knowledge and understanding of agriculture.

I am fortunate to work with dedicated individuals committed to improving agriculture statewide. In this role there is no distinction between male or female only a true commitment to positive youth development.”